Metropolitan Ukima Park

You can enjoy seasonal changes: cherry blossoms and azaleas in spring; hydrangeas during the rainy season; and from early winter, migratory birds including up to 8,000 ducks gather here. There is a windmill installed on the lakeside as a symbol of the park.

Cherry Tree-Lined Road in Front of Tokyo-Kita Medical Center

The row of cherry trees that line the approximately 700 meters from Suwajinja-mae to Hachiman-shogakko-mae creates a splendid cherry blossom tunnel that covers the 20-meter-wide road when the trees bloom.

Akabane Ryokudo Park (Park Bridge)

A walking path style park build on the former site of a service line for the old Japanese National Railway. There are many sights to see, including seasonal flowers and greenery, and brick bridges.

Akabane Nature Observation Park

One purpose of the park is to restore natural groves where insects and wild birds are nurtured. The park utilizes the valley-like terrain and springs to create an environment where visitors can get close to nature.

A nice detour for a spring walk

Along Arakawa river you will find a beautiful field of pink moss phlox flowers. The field extends about 500 meters long, making it the largest in the 23 wards of Tokyo.
